

When Debra promises to go the distance for her clients, she isn't talking about Birmingham.

After eight years in the upstate megabanking machine, Debra Gwaltney values the chance to find solutions closer to home. With a background in mortgage lending, she's often able to give important answers and information without even leaving the room, much less the county.

To Debra, Baldwin County is home. Especially at work.

Finally, there's a bank as unique as the people and places it serves.

Now you can enjoy the full strength of a nationally chartered bank without sacrificing the comforts of a hometown institution.

Call and talk to a person who saw the same sunrise you did.

Bring your questions to someone who has lived here long enough to see a sapling become a mighty source of shade.

Know a bank that is open early, open late, and open-minded.

A bank that, like you, understands why we're here.
